

Part 3 -- Future Short Story

Fae wakes up from their charging table and talks to you as you take medicine. After you have your pill, you grab Fae as they try to poke at the cat. They are too tiny to play with cats at four inches tall. You tell Fae to change into an outfit for the day. As they put clothing on their wings activate popping out of the holes for them in the clothing. Fae sits on your shoulder as you head to breakfast, they chat about what is happening for the day.
